Four men in suits are seated at a long wooden table on the stage. They appear to be listening or participating in a discussion. There are water bottles and glasses on the table.

A man in a dark suit is standing at a podium on the right side of the stage, facing the audience. He appears to be presenting or speaking.

The foreground shows the backs of several audience members seated in blue chairs, looking towards the stage. The room has wood-paneled walls and recessed ceiling lighting.
