

COMPOSITION SAMPLE 7

Nowadays, advertisements are something very easy to find in every place we look at, such as television, posters, even we can hear them in the radio. There are a lot of different types of ads about health, beauty, jeans, products of cleaning and so on. Every type of ads go towards a kind of specific audience: children, teenagers, or adults. Many people believe that ads are not good because they encourage them to buy things that they do not need or do not think to buy. Another people think that ads inform them about the new products and services they can get. But the big problem of the present days are the channels only about ads, where the people usually stay at home, it begins to see this channel and to buy some different products. Until one day, they realise that they cannot stop of buying such things and they do not know why. However, this is an event that do not occur always. and not all the people that see this channel begins to buy the products as if he or she was ill or crazy. Some people believe that this channel is not interesting or even stupid, because when a person buy something from the channel, generally when you receive the product at home, it is not the same.

From my point of view, I think that these kind of channels are very boring. I don't like it. The products that generally appear are not useful.
