

“Television has destroyed communication among friends and family”. Discuss.
ARGUMENTATIVE ESSAY. 300 WORDS

“TELEVISION HAS DESTROYED COMMUNICATION AMONG FRIENDS AND FAMILY”

Nowadays there are more and more people that spend all day watching television instead of reading a book, going for a walk, listening to music or just talking to their friends. There's nothing wrong if you want to watch a special program or when it's raining and you don't feel like going out, these are things that everybody use to do in these cases or in our spare time. But the problem is that we spend a lot of time doing the same thing without thinking about the rest of our families, friends or even ourselves.

On the other hand television can be the reason why people start to argue our it can sometimes destroy the communication among friends and family. A friend of mine is always watching television and he says: “I think that television is the most important thing to be discovered, it can help you to make you feel good or happy when you are sad or when you have had a quarrel with your couple and you don't want to explain her the situation or to try to solve the problem because you're so tired to do it.” In my opinion it is so stupid to think in this way and he should change his mind about it, because I consider more important to communicate with your friends that sit down in front of T.V. and spend twenty four hours a day without speak. T.V. can help you for a while but just for screen you from the reality. For one thing it is known how television important is to see what happen in the world, and in this way the news can be useful for people that have no time to read or to buy a newspaper. And for another thing television has a lot of channels and if you want to see some of them the only thing that you have to do is to turn it into another channel. People like to argue about what they watch on T.V. and it could be the beginning of a quarrel. But what can we do with this kind of people that like to watch television all the time? In my opinion the best thing to do is encourage them with nice things such as travel to another place for a weekend or go out for a nice meal. The only thing that we never have to do is to threat them with the idea of throwing the television through the window because it could kill them, don't you think?